

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, Americans traveling from one place to another can choose from a variety of options in reaching their destinations, including road, rail, air, and water; and

WHEREAS, in addition to moving people, our transportation industry provides timely and efficient delivery of countless products across the country and around the world, making positive contributions to the health and economic prosperity of people and communities in the nation; and

WHEREAS, South Carolina's transportation industry professionals are committed to meeting the needs of homes, farms, businesses and communities across the Palmetto State, working together to ensure a safe, sound and accessible transportation system that offers choices while protecting the environment; and

WHEREAS, the 2005 observance of South Carolina Transportation Industry Week recognizes the critical role the transportation industry plays in the safety, economic competitiveness, and quality of life of all Americans.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Mark Sanford, Governor of the Great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim May 15 – 21, 2005, as

throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to honor the men and women who work to help ensure the security, efficiency, and reliability of our transportation systems, contributing to the safety, economic growth, and quality of life of the residents of the Palmetto State.
